

Alexandria Gazette.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 24.

LOCAL NEWS.

For this section light rains followed by fair weather, except in southern Virginia fair weather, light to fresh variable winds, rising followed by falling temperature.

HOLIDAY ADVERTISING.—The rapid approach of the Christmas festivities has reminded Alexandria's merchants that they must give notice to the masses of the people that they are prepared for the usual rush. The evidence of this will be found in the columns of the GAZETTE, the old established paper of this section. It is read by thousands every day, both within and without the city, its circulation extending generally throughout this part of the State. A word to the wise is sufficient.

"MAJOR" BURGESS AGAIN.—"Major" B. J. Burgess, who is well known in Alexandria, is in trouble again, this time in New Orleans, where he is just out of jail. The "Major" lighted in the Crescent City about three weeks ago as a Colonel. He said that he came from Chicago, and designed opening a military academy in New Orleans. He took lodgings in a fashionable quarter, and after looking about a few days he completed arrangements for the lease of a large building and sent out circulars for the "Crescent Military Academy," of which he announced himself as Principal. A few days after that he leased a store, stating that he intended to open a wholesale grocery and commission house. He purchased handsome furniture and fitted up the place, for all of which he promised to pay. Then he engaged four young men to solicit consignments, had bill and letter heads printed, not even paying for the paper, and sent his employees out on the road. He dressed well and succeeded in putting himself on terms with quite a number of society people, and was about consummating the purchase of a horse and jumper—all except paying for it, when his career was cut short by his arrest. One of his agents named Laudner was given a check for $20, and a Mr. Bitterwolf cashed it, as it was after banking hours. Burgess called on Bitterwolf the following morning and asked him not to present the check as he would settle on Friday. Burgess's solicitors meantime had started on the road and arranged for a number of consignments, principally lumber. One car load was shipped and several others were promised. Sawmill owners also agreed to send consignments. Brooms, buckets, tubs, etc. were ordered, but the firms would not send the goods until they were paid for. He succeeded in arranging for the shipment of seven carloads of lumber, which he sold and forwarded to New York. Burgess stated that he had plenty of money, and that his wife was exceedingly wealthy in Virginia, where he also had a rich brother. He purchased goods right and left but none were delivered, and he was not at all signifying in issuing checks on banks at none of which he had any account. On the day of his arrest he had promised to settle an account of $50, but failed, and accordingly was arrested charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, and taken to jail. When the arrest was published people to whom he was indebted began calling at his store. A half barrel of honey and a clerk in a very disagreeable predicament, was all they could find except the office furniture. Saturday morning Burgess was arrested before the Recorder, and Bitterwolf resigned relative to the check cashed by him. As Burgess had not tendered the check for payment and had not received the money, he was acquitted. Among other stories told by the "Major" was one to the effect that he had a vessel on the way from Jamaica, laden with bananas and tropical fruits. When urged to telegraph to his brother to help him out of his troubles, he answered that his brother was at the "mill" in Virginia, miles away from a telegraph station. His wife, he said, was traveling for pleasure and he had not heard from her for some time and did not know where she was. After his release Saturday nothing has been heard of him. He has probably gone in search of other pastures green.

THE STEAMER ROUTE upon the Potomac river are becoming more and more important. The increase of the population at Washington and the very considerable growth of the Potomac counties of Maryland and Virginia on the river side make each year the movement of the passengers and freight on the river of greater volume. From a single steamer that was devoted to this trade before the war there has now grown a fleet of steamers that connect the lower river and the bay with this city and Washington. The Baltimore trade with the Potomac, which in those days was conducted by the steamer Columbia, is still carried on by the steamer Sue, but no little of the Baltimore trade is in freights carried by the Washington steamers which connect at the wharf of Shepherd's Station of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad with the Monumental City. The trade for the present year is very near its end, and the season will soon close, but it is expected that next season will show a largely increased volume of business. It is said that some new steamers will then be put on the river. The Alexandria and Washington ferry managers, as heretofore stated, contemplate the building of two fast iron steamers for the ferry route. If Congress will make an appropriation for keeping open a channel from Washington to the sea from one year's end to the other these boats might be built as ice-breakers.

THE R. & D. R. R.—Rumors relating to prospective changes in the Richmond and West Point Terminal management traveled thick and fast in Wall street, New York, yesterday. It seems to be an accepted belief that important changes will be made at the approaching election. A well posted stockholder in the company says that John D. Rockefeller, R. P. Flower, R. T. Wilson and Mr. Farnestock will probably go into the new d rectory, and that either Mr. Wilson or Mr. Flower will be chosen president. John H. Inman, it is said, has declined to accept the presidency. Negotiations are believed to be pending for the sale of some bonds now in the company's treasury, the proceeds of which will enable the company to retire more than $3,000,000 of collateral trust bonds.

POLICE REPORT.—Last night was cloudy and cool with ten lodgers and two prisoners at the station house. The Mayor this morning disposed of the following cases: John Hall, James Phillips and Alex. Ogden, for being drunk and disorderly were fined $1 each. George Travers, for an assault on Ida Dennis, was fined $20. George Travers and George Chichester, charged with fighting about the above mentioned assault, were discharged. James Owens, charged with disorderly conduct in being engaged in the cutting scrape on Sunday night last, an account of which was published in this GAZETTE on Monday, was fined $10, and Jeff. Phillips, arrested on the same charge, was acquitted. Lewis Beal, charged with vagrancy, was ordered to leave the city.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The Levy Operatic Concert Company will appear at the Opera House tomorrow night. An exchange says of the great cornetist: "Levy stands unrivaled and alone. His technique is marvelously perfect, and his power of expression infinite. His selections were all of a popular nature."

The well-known Thatcher, Primrose & West minstrel troupe will be the attraction for Monday night.

AMERICAN LEGION OF HONOR.—At the seventh annual session of the Grand Council American Legion of Honor of Virginia, at Leesburg yesterday, the following officers for the ensuing term were elected and duly installed by the D. S. C., J. B. McCabe: M. F. Huddell, Grand Commander; W. W. Athey, Grand Vice-Commander; T. C. Morton, Grand Orator; A. W. Ball, Past Grand Commander; E. A. Barber, Grand Secretary; R. G. Staples, Grand Treasurer; S. H. Randlett, Grand Chaplain; E. J. Weymouth, Grand Guide; H. A. Hare, Grand Warden; S. A. Bell, Grand Sentry; J. B. McCabe, Representative to Supreme Council; P. F. Cogbill, Alternate to Supreme Council.

THANKSGIVING DAY was only partially observed in this city as a holiday. The government and municipal offices and the banks were closed, there was no meeting of the Commercial Exchange and the public schools gave holiday. A large number of persons left the city, some for Washington and others to spend the day gunning in the country. Some of the stores were closed after 11 o'clock, but the majority of them remained open during the day. The social clubs kept open houses and at many homes there were family reunions. Religious services were held in some of the churches.

WENT HUNTING.—Every man and boy, white or black, who owned or could borrow a gun, cat rifle, or blunderbuss left here this morning for the adjacent fields to "hunt." Numbers of gunners also came here from Washington on the steamers and proceeded on foot to the country in quest of game. The latter on their way back home stopped here and depleted the market of rabbits, squirrels, turkeys, etc., which they took home as trophies of their skill as hunters.

DEAD.—Mr. George A. Faunce, a well-known citizen of this place, died at the almshouse last night. The deceased was a native of Massachusetts, but for over forty years resided in Alexandria, where he worked at his trade—shoemaking. During the early part of his life he was a seafaring man, and spent eighteen years of his existence upon the ocean. He was a kind hearted, quiet gentleman and was respected by all who knew him. He was in the 75th year of his age.

MORE SUITS.—It is understood that in addition to the two million dollar suit instituted against the New York Herald by the Arrow Steamship Company for damages growing out of the late publications in the Herald, concerning that company, that the individual directors of the company will also bring suits against that paper, charging damages in sums ranging from $50,000 downward for defamation of character.

PERSONAL.—Capt. J. V. Davis, late Superintendent of the National Cemetery here but who was transferred to Little Rock, Ark., has returned to this city, where he will make his future home.

Mr. C. P. Rodgers, of Grafton, W. Va., has arrived here and taken charge of the National Cemetery, of which he was recently appointed superintendent.

Functional derangement of the female system is quickly cured by the use of Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." It removes pain and restores health and strength. By all druggists.

The capital stock of this company is $625,000, divided into 625,000 shares of $1 each.

The company is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, and the stock is non-assessable, and carries with it no personal liability to the holder.

THE GOLD MINING COMPANY (location, Music Mountains, A. T.) is as sound a mining enterprise as was ever placed on the market, and its possibilities have never been exceeded. Every share should double in value within a year, and they may quadruple, as they are based on property that would ordinarily have been capitalized ten (10) times as great on account of its known richness and promise.

The shares are made small so that any one can invest. Subscriptions for five shares are as welcome as those for hundreds.

Every dollar of earnings will go to the stockholders in dividends, as there is nothing else that they can be used for.

A Wisewell mill, capacity 20 tons per day, with powerful machinery, has been purchased and will be on the ground ready for erection at the mine within the next thirty days.
